In its ongoing effort to improve the quality of services to Federal retirees, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has announced the termination of the contract with its Retirement Systems Modernization (RSM) contractor, Hewitt. OPM plans to start over with the development of the retirement calculator portion of the new system, called RetireEZ, beginning with a requirements analysis. The other two components of RetireEZ—data conversion and change management—will eventually be combined with a successful calculation engine. The combination of the three components will result in a program that will allow all Federal employees to retire using an electronic process. Currently there is no estimated date of completion for the project.

ARC will continue to provide customer updates on the status of RSM as they become available. For more information on RSM, visit OPM’s website at www.opm.gov or contact Julie Miller at 304-480-8215 or benefits@bpd.treas.gov.

5. FY 2008 Audit Results

During FY 2008, 21 of our customer agencies had financial statement audits, and we are proud to report that they all received an unqualified opinion. We feel this achievement is a result of the partnership between the agencies and ARC. To date, over 99 percent of our audit opinions have been unqualified, and we look forward to continued success in the future.

For the past five years, ARC has also had a SAS 70 audit on our accounting and computer system internal control structure. Each of those audits received an unqualified opinion.

If you have any questions regarding ARC’s audit results, please contact Richard McFee at richard.mcfee@bpd.treas.gov or 304-480-7118.
